We, the members of the Bobzin-Swinford Post 1098 of Frankfort, Illinois, believe that by presenting to the public a word picture of what our post is doing to help the veteran and the community in which he lives, we will interest more veterans in joining the Legion and help us achieve our goal.

To each veteran they gave one glass of jam or jelly, one box of crackers and one can of fruit juice. The Unit wishes to express their "Thank you" at this time to all who so kindly gave cash donations, jellies or jams for this worthy cause.

Oetter of Frankfort, was one of eight students recently initiated in the Mu Xi Chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary musical sorority at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. William Schult of Mokena are announcing the engagement of their daughter Elda Mae, to Mr. Joseph Gougar, son of Mrs. Ruby Gougar of New Lenox. No date has been set for the wedding.

There's Something
Fishy About This

No, there aren't any fish in this picture. It's just Dr. Irwin A. Moon in a deep sea diver's garb, climbing down a ladder into the "silent deep" to prove that the deep really is not silent at all. In his newest scientific film, "Voice of the Deep," Dr. Moon reveals that fish have a definite language of their own.

The film, produced in sound and natural color, will be shown at 8 p. m., Monday, March 14 in the Calvary Baptist church in Lincoln Estates.

The Increase Gas
Tax Controversy

Following is an editorial by Keith Fanshier, which appeared in the Chicago Journal of Commerce, February 19, which raises questions extremely pertinent to the Illinois Highway Commission's recommendation that the Legislature increase all highway user taxes by considerable amounts:

WHO WANTS HIGHER GASOLINE TAXES?

Who wants an increase in the motor fuel tax rate at this time?

The question is specifically directed to the Illinois proposal for a 2 cent increase, in which there are numerous especially bad factors. But it is applicable also to conditions in virtually all the many other states in which such programs unhappily are overhanging.

Who really wants these higher taxes. Not the motorist. He is already the prize burden-bearer of the universe.

Not the general public. There is no widespread public call for this project.

Not the dealer.

Not the jobber.

Not the major oil company.

Not business leaders nor business as a whole.

Not the church people. Not the schools, nor the children.

Not the governor. At least Illinois' chief executive was quoted extensively just before the recent election as strongly opposed to any tax increase, although more recent quotations tend to open his stand to question.

Not labor.

Who, then, does want the tax boost. It begins to appear, from state capitol indications, that strong support for the increased tax rate does exist in important quarters there, and further checking ought to be able to develop the answer to the question as to what interests do want this tax increase—and why.

Insofar as the position of the petroleum industry is concerned, it remains unchanged on this question. The industry has considerable gasoline taxation as more or less a necessary evil, and no desirable phase of the political economy—only so when it exists under circumstances of moderation. In the case of Illinois there is sound reason to believe the present rate represents about the upper reaches of that status.

In consequence the industry opposes an increase, and will fight it vigorously.

Meanwhile, it should be illuminating to attempt to find the real answer to the question of who wants higher motor fuel tax rates.

Child Delinquency

Blamed to Parents

Mrs. Frank Specht, in speaking to the Markham PTA on March 2, at McClaughry school, placed the blame for juvenile delinquency squarely in the laps of parents. Mrs. Specht speaks with authority, as she has been affiliated with the Geneva training school for girls for eight years, and has served as president of the Chicago Federated Charities. She declares the age of delinquents is dropping constantly—there being over 400 girls at Geneva, most of them between 13 and 15 years of age. This age is significant she says, when connected with the failure of child training in the last 15 years to impress upon the child a proper respect for authority and the difference between right and wrong. Delinquency, she declares, is no respecter of communities or families. We can all do our part in arresting beginning cases by never labeling a child "bad" and rejecting him. This feeling of rejection will push a child bordering on delinquency along the road to true delinquency. Encourage your child to help such children and play with them under your supervision.

ST. PATRICK'S CARD PARTY

There will be a card party held in the basement of the new St. Anthony's church in Lincoln Estates on St. Patrick's Day, March 17 starting at 8 o'clock. Everyone is invited.

NEW LENOX WARNED OF RABIES FINES

Citizens of New Lenox who violate the rabies quarantine by letting their dogs run at large, are subject to fines of from $25.00 to $200.00. Dr. Walter V. Hedges, Acting Will county Health officer warned the Village Board at its regular meeting Wednesday, March 2.

Citizens of New Lenox who appeared at the meeting complained that numerous stray dogs were wandering through the town, upsetting garbage cans, and inflicting considerable property damage. They expressed the hope that stern measures would be taken.

The question was raised as to whether or not dogs which had been vaccinated against rabies could run at large. Mayor F. Carlton Cole answered that the quarantine applied to all dogs in the village whether they had been immunized or not, and stated that the fact that a dog had been immunized did not free the owner from liability of a fine if the dog was found running loose.

It was announced at the meeting that the house numbering plan for New Lenox had now been completed, and that within a short time each property owner will receive a postal card giving him his house number. The numbers, according to the ordinance, must be put up within 30 days.

Two Cars Collide;
One Turns Over

As Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Westlund and Kenneth Nelson, all of Mokena, were driving to Joliet Sunday afternoon they figured in an auto accident.

They were driving south on Wolf road with a car in front of them, which they had started to pass when suddenly the head car turned left, to enter the driveway of the Larimore home. This caused the Westlund car to hit it, and turned it over. They alighted at once, righted the car, after the driver, Mr. Babcock of Joliet had climbed out. The Babcock car later continued on its own power into the Larimore yard, and the Westlund car returned home on its own power. No one was injured.

Frankfort Legions
Tournament 19th-20th

The Bobzin-Swinford Post 1098 of the American Legion of Frankfort, Illinois, have made arrangements to sponsor a Basketball Tournament to be held Saturday and Sunday evening, March 19 and 20, at the Frankfort gym. Games to start each evening at 8:00 p. m.

Teams entered are Mokena, New Lenox, Ridgewood and Frankfort. The past two months these teams have been playing a home and home schedule and the standings up to this date finds Mokena in first place with New Lenox and Frankfort tied for second. Last Sunday's game, due to New Lenox being unable to use their own court, the game between Frankfort and New Lenox was played at Frankfort with New Lenox coming out on top 54 to 50. Next Sunday Mokena plays at Frankfort for the league leadership. If Mokena loses, it will throw them in a three way tie for first place with New Lenox and Frankfort. Frankfort Legion team is out to win one game this season from Mokena, so it should be a bang-up game.

New Lenox will play Ridgewood at New Lenox the same afternoon.

Frankfort Business
Established in 1875
To Close Its Doors

One of Frankfort's oldest businesses is passing out of existence. An announcement found on another page of this issue states that the Balchowsky store is selling out—lock, stock and barrel.

In an interview with the proprietor, Harry Balchowsky the first of the week, he stated that he had sold the building to Arthur C. Bauch of Frankfort and therefore is closing out one of the landmark business places in the village.

It was in 1875 that Barney Balchowsky, father of the present owner, came out from Chicago following the Chicago fire, and started selling merchandise with a pack on his back. It was not very long before his increased business caused him to buy a horse and wagon to better handle his trade, and in a few more years, to be exact it was April 1877, he rented a building and established a store.

His trade continued to grow and in 1880 he built a store of his own, located half a block south of the present store, and in 1903 built the brick addition on the north side.

In 1902 when the new building was built, Mr. Barney Balchowsky also incorporated the business and included his two sons, when it was known as B. Balchowsky and Sons.

This trade name continued until the present owner became the sole owner and operator when the corporation was dissolved in 1926.

Harry Balchowsky was born and reared in the present store building. It has been 45 years that he has been in business, and states he plans to remain in Frankfort but that his plans are indefinite as to the future.

There are very few homes in this wide area that do not have something in it that came from the Balchowsky store.

TWP. ELECTION APRIL 5— VILLAGE
ELECTION APRIL 19—SOME CONTESTSSchool Consolidation
Lost in Orland Twp.

The official returns of the school elections held in Orland township Saturday, February 26, on the school consolidation as proposed by the School Survey Committee, were not available until Friday, March 4. The completion of those returns are as follows:

District	For	Against
134	15	33
138	11	35
139	1	30
136	10	43
135	31	20
137	14	49
121	6	3
Total	88	213

The above shows that the only district which carried was 135, Orland village, in an incorporated area, all the other districts being unincorporated.

In District 137, the Doctor school on 159th street there are 56 pupils, with one teacher who has all eight grades. Because of this over-crowded condition, since the first of December the pupils of the first three grades attend school in the afternoon and the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils attend in the morning. It is very evident that something will have to be done to overcome this condition. It has been suggested that adding to the present school building and having more teachers is one answer, and another would be to consolidate with one or more nearby districts.

SOMETHING NEW ABOUT MILK

Something new has been discovered about the nutritious quality of milk.

Science reported today that milk, because of its high protein value, is an important source of niacin, a vitamin required by the body for normal health.

Working on a four-year research project at the University of Wisconsin under the sponsorship of the National Dairy Council, Chicago, Dr. Elvehjem and his associates point out that niacin's dietary value became known in the search for a cure for pellagra, a skin disease with a history of several thousand fatalities annually, particularly in the southern part of the United States. Patients fed milk improved in health but no one seemed to understand why. More recent research discloses that milk prevents early signs of niacin deficiencies which may occur even in persons who think they are well nourished.

The University of Wisconsin study provides proof that milk, generally thought to be low in niacin content, acquires an abundance of the much-needed vitamin for health from the protein in the milk through the process of synthesis in the body.

Supplies of nitrogen for fertilizer are expected to continue tight in 1949; only about a 7 percent increase in production is expected.

Supplies of phosphate for fertilizer this year are expected to be 5 percent above last year; and supplies of potash, 10 percent.

FARMING

We are proud to announce our appointment, effective July 1, 1947, as authorized dealer for the new Ford Tractor and Dearborn Implements.

The new Ford Tractor combines twenty-two important improvements with the former advantages of Ford-built tractors. Come in and get all the interesting details. Also, for parts and service on any Ford-built tractor, be sure to call on us.

Designed by expert implement engineers and tested by practical farmers, Dearborn Implements are especially made to work with the Ford Tractor—either the new or the former model. And implements used with the former model will operate equally well with the new Ford Tractor.

Of Old Age Conquering Ills

The more diseases medicine conquers the higher looms the challenge: increasing numbers of aging people, with their own peculiar ills. On most of these ills research has been scanty, says Pathfinder news magazine.

But current developments reveal an increasing emphasis on gerontology (the scientific study of aging) and geriatrics (the medical treatment of the diseases of age.) The three-year-old Gerontological Society surveyed some of its problems at a recent meeting.

Shock of Old Age

Most students of the subject think that aging is considered more of a tragedy in our competitive society than it was in the past ages—far more so than in China, where old age is considered the best time of life, and individuals are taught to regard the old with special respect and affection.

By contrast, in the West, especially America, the realization that old age has arrived is "perhaps the most profound shock of our lifespan, next to dying." Dr. Martin Gumpert, who made this statement, thinks that the old should be persuaded to accept the fact calmly, give up illusions of staying young. Their best psychological allies, he thinks, are intellectual curiosity and absence of worry about security.

Anti-Aging Drugs

Although laboratory study of old-age diseases still is not widespread, some advances have been made. In particular, degenerative conditions like arteriosclerosis and coronary thrombosis have been treated experimentally with two recently re-discovered drugs, inositol and choline. Both are thought to be part of the potent but still mysterious vitamin B complex.

Choline first made its way into chemical literature about 80 years ago. The form now under test is choline bicarbonate, a bad-tasting synthetic syrup found in its natural form in egg yolk, animal hearts and kidneys, wheat germ and nuts. Inositol was discovered even earlier—about 100 years ago.

None of the dozen or so hospital laboratories working with these drugs has released definitive conclusions, but some may do so soon. In a recent Los Angeles test, 100 patients with coronary blood clots were treated with choline. Another group of 100 "controls" were given conventional treatment to enlarge constricted blood vessels. After 18 months, almost half of the control group had died. Only 4 per cent of those given choline died—none after the first few months.

At Texas University, Dr. George Hermann is treating some coronary patients with both drugs, some with choline alone. He has obtained improvements in some cases, puzzling failures in others, wants more time to find out why.

The Matter of Slums

"Slum Clearance" is a high sounding expression and provides an appeal to the everyday citizens whose sympathies are aroused when overcrowded and unsanitary living conditions in our large cities are described. Without mature thought, he fails to analyze the primary cause of such conditions, and often grasps at the sophistry of propagandists as providing the only correct solution to the problem.

Slums Are Run Down Mansions

What he fails to consider is that to a large extent the areas and structures described as slums in cities like Chicago, were, some one or two decades ago, residential sections viewed with pride as representative of the highest living conditions. Such sections, having been rendered undesirable for their original use, by the encroachment of commerce and industry, have fallen into the hands of owners whose sole purpose has been milk them dry and then throw them away. Such owners accordingly have packed in tenants until every room is occupied by three or four persons. They pay no taxes, and spend no money on maintenance, repair or rehabilitation. Every occupant must shift for himself and provide the necessities of sanitation food preparation and warmth. Temporary stoves have smoke pipes sticking out of windows. Toilet accommodations, built for approximately one tenth of the occupants are filthy and in disrepair. Practically every law providing for the health and safety of citizens is openly violated. Yet cities like Chicago and all are equally culpable, have done little or nothing to modify or correct such conditions.

Would Correct by Demolition

Such are our big city slums. Such are the conditions which the Federal Government proposes to correct under the provisions of the Housing Act of 1949, by spending billions of federal dollars in demolishing these well built structures and replacing them with other structures, possibly not so well built, in which the same or similar occupants will be housed as tenants of the State and which in a short space of time, lacking the enforcement of health and safety laws, will revert to type and become slums of the next generation.

Everyone Helps Pay

To pay for such demolition and rehabilitation, not the residents of the community in question alone will be taxed, but every business man, every wage earner and every person with income, in every village, small city and countryside, where no such conditions ever existed or ever will exist.

Misplaced Compassion

Compassion and charity might contribute to a feeling that such a spread of cost were just, were it not for the main contributing cause of such conditions and the objectives contained in the proposed cure.

STATE LIBRARY LISTS BOOKS FOR LENTEN READING

Especially appropriate reading for the season of Lent may be found among books recently added to the Illinois State Library collection. Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett, state librarian, has announced.

Fulton Oursler's "The Greatest Story Ever Told," the book on which the weekly radio program of the same name is based, is one of the most popular, Mr. Barrett said. Oursler follows the Biblical story, giving the traditional, orthodox version, but he makes it read like something new.

Another outstanding book is "And the Third Day," edited by Sir Herbert Grierson. This is an anthology of masterpieces dealing with man's hope of immortality, and contains selections from Plato, Virgil, the Old and New Testaments, Dante, Milton, Bunyan, Keats and Shelley. It is liberally illustrated with reproductions of the works of Fra Angelico, Titian, Michelangelo and others.

"Lincoln and the Bible," by Clarence E. Macartney, presents Lincoln's knowledge and use of the Bible and his deep spirituality through the use of historical anecdotes. "God's Underground," by Father George, as told to Gretta Palmer, is the story of a Yugoslav Catholic priest's underground activities in dictator-dominated Europe in the later years of the war.

Secretary Barrett called special attention to books for children, including "The Mass for Boys and Girls," by Rev. Joseph A. Dunne; "The Rainbow Book of Bible Stories: The Old and New Testaments," illustrated by Hilda Van Stockum; "Sixty Saints for Boys" by John Windham, and "Jesus: Stories for Children," by James D. Smart.

Other new books appropriate for the Lenten season are: "Cathedrals and How They Were Built," by D.H.S. Cranage; "St. Anthony of Padua," by Rev. Raphael M. Huber; "Saint Paul," by Robert Sencourt; "Christianity: How it Came to us, What it is, What it Might Be," by Charles Edwards Park; "Clerical Dress and Insignia of the Roman Catholic Church," by Rev. Henry J. McCloud; "A Guidebook of the Bible," by Alice Parmelee, and "St. Peter the Apostle," by William Thomas Walsh.

Successive dipping in two germicidal solutions is an effective way to destroy bovine mastitis germs on teat cups.

TELEPHONE QUIZ TRICK REVEALED BY CBB BUREAU

Don't get too excited if your telephone rings and you are told you can win a $50 prize if you answer a question. You may get the "prize" but it will cost you money to use it.

These telephone quizzes, which according to complaints are a deceptive scheme to get customers into the operator's store, are conducted along the following lines: The telephone rings and a pleasant voice announces he is conducting a "telephone quiz" and that if the listener can answer a question he or she will receive a $50 prize. When the answer is given, and usually regardless of its accuracy, the listener is congratulated upon his astuteness and told he will receive a $50 prize.

What he is not told, however, is that this so-called "prize" is in the form of a merchandise certificate, good only if applied on the purchase of other goods usually priced several times the amount of the certificate. At the present time this scheme is being used by a number of furriers who send "winners" a $50 merchandise certificate to be applied on the purchase of a fur coat.

Some complainants say the phone call was made during or immediately after a radio quiz show, causing them to believe there was a connection. Others say the "Quizzer" used names or terms similar to those on regular quiz programs on the radio.

Whether these certificates are bona fide, and constitute an actual reduction in the retail price is best answered by the fact that these so-called "prizes" are given out indiscriminately. The Bureau has records of persons who gave directly opposite answers, yet both received identical "prizes" of $50 certificates. Some inquirers even say they received merchandise certificates although they had given no answer.

Complainants say they were humiliated because they had told friends they had won a prize which turned out to be merely a come-on to get them into the store.

In the opinion of the Chicago Better Business Bureau this practice is a tricky way to get business and has been condemned as contrary to public interest.

Hiway Taxpayers Com. Says No Need for Increased Gas Taxes

Unless there is an old-fashioned, grass-roots voter uproar it looks like Illinois car owners are going to be stuck for at least $38,000,000 more in special taxes, the Illinois Highway Taxpayers committee has declared.

And that's only part of it, Jesse H. Higgins, committee secretary, revealed, as proposed increases in truck and bus taxes will indirectly boost every consumer's already high cost of living. Declaring that a long-range highway program recommended by a Chicago engineering firm—which would cost $6,900,000,000 during the next 20 years—has been used as a propaganda piece to build a case for jumping highway-user taxes, the committee's statement said:

"The proposed gasoline tax increase from 3 cents a gallon to 5 cents is a 66 2-3 percent increase. The present tax is equal to a sales tax on gasoline of 22 percent and the proposed tax is a sales tax of 35 percent. Even on luxuries we have to pay only a 20 percent tax. What an uproar there would be if anyone suggested raising the state sales tax to 35 percent!

"We don't think any such suggestion would have a ghost of a chance if put to a vote of the people, but they aren't going to be. They probably will be introduced in the Legislature in early March and they probably will pass unless labor, farmers, housewives, and business men tell their Governor and their representatives not to increase these taxes."

The long-range, multi-billion dollar recommendations were described as being "as fantastic, as super-colossal as anything that ever came out of Hollywood."

The committee went on to point out that "the actual fact is that present rates are bringing in more than enough money for good roads. Illinois will have more than twice as much money available for the improvement of state highways during the current four-year period than was actually spent in the four years immediately preceding the war. There is simply no justification for any increases in highway user taxes now."

"Present rates are bringing in more money every year, with more cars and trucks on the road. Highway-user tax receipts are now the highest in Illinois' history.

"In addition, there are large sums of money unspent in the state highway fund, and we are getting very liberal federal aid allocations."

"Of course, the tax-spenders say that costs of building highways have risen, and they have, but they haven't doubled as yet. So, why can't the highway department get along on twice as much money as it spent before the war?"

"Further, no one has explained what roads are going to be built with $34,000,000 more in gasoline taxes, and at least $3,000,000 more in passenger car registrations, plus a few more millions from higher truck and bus fees. It looks like the spenders want to get their hands on the money first, then explain what they're going to do with it."

"The heart of the whole matter is that even they can't spend such sums under conditions today. There are material shortages, there aren't enough skilled engineers. That's one reason why they haven't spent all the money they already have."

"We're for good roads in Illinois, and we can have good roads with what we are already paying."

Make that water walk downhill

Water that runs downhill runs away with your precious topsoil

IT doesn't take a "gully-washer" or a "goose drownder" to rob you of your precious topsoil. Bare land, up-and-down-hill row crops, and over-grazed range all invite rain to escape without working for you—and to erode your topsoil away. But sod or cover crops act like a blotter to absorb and hold the growth-giving water. Slopes and hillsides tilled on the contour, with alternating strips of crop-land and grass, save maximum amounts of water, hold erosion to a minimum. Flatter fields may be subsurface-tilled to keep the protective rain-absorbing trash on top. Correct rotations of crops, which include plow-under crops, will help absorb and hold moisture.

You need lots of water. It takes about 200 barrels of water to grow one bushel of corn. That's around 625,000 gallons for every 100 bushels. And most other growing plants also require large amounts of moisture. . . . You can't control the amount of rainfall you get. But you can conserve it, so that every drop does the best possible job of making grass or crops for you.

As farmers and ranchers in every state well know, water has a "split personality." It can be your ally, or a devastating foe. Lashing rains can erode away inches of fertile topsoil in a short time. But it takes nature 300 to 1,000 years to rebuild each lost inch. That's why the control of water is so important in a good land management program. Considerable progress in erosion control has been made in the past ten years. But we've still got a long way to go! Hundreds of millions of productive acres are endangered by erosion and gullying. They're washing away! Only good land management can save our soil and keep America strong. It will pay you—and all of us—to make that water walk downhill.

Growth

As every boy and girl should know, Big oaks from little acorns grow. And that's the way with business, too. Your growth depends on the job you do.

Gustavus Swift, away back when, Slaughtered a heifer, and he then Peddled the meat, also the hide. Got back the cost . . .

a small profit beside!

From that small start in this big land Swift kept pace with the job at hand. As the job grew bigger, Swift grew, too. Yes, growth depends on the job you do!

New Grass Varieties

by Wilkie Collins, Jr.
Soil Conservation Service
Lincoln, Nebraska

Wilkie Collins, Jr.

Good pasture is the key to production of more meat, milk and wool, at lower cost. In addition, a good cover of grass protects your soil against wind and water erosion. When you have improved pasture, or range, good livestock and a sound conservation program, you have a profitable combination.

Many new grasses have been developed in recent years. Several of these promise to become real money-makers for livestock men. They out-yield old grasses, give a longer grazing season, and provide better soil protection.

1. Smooth Brome—The Lincoln, Auchenbach and Fisher strains give higher yields, are easier established and withstand summer heat and drought better in the central, eastern and southern brome areas.

2. Intermediate Wheatgrass—A high-yielding, sod-forming cool-season grass that is easier to establish than most varieties. It is highly palatable and does exceptionally well in the central and northern plains and western mountain area.

3. Sand Lovegrass—Highly palatable, especially well adapted to sandy soils.

4. Tall Wheatgrass—A high-yielding cool-season bunchgrass that does better than other grasses under alkaline conditions.

5. Ky-31 Fescue—High-yielding, supplies longer grazing, especially good for southern and south-eastern states.

6. Russian Wild Rye, Blackwell Strain of Switchgrass, Hays Buffalo Grass, Yellow Bluestem and Sweet Sudan are other new or improved grasses for adapted areas.

Grasses usually give higher yields and better quality forage when grown in association with an adapted legume.

God's Signature

Lesson for March 13, 1949

IN A STRANGE city you may suddenly need to be identified. Some suspicious clerk wants to know if your signature is genuine. It is a fair challenge, for too many liars are in circulation. Jesus himself had to furnish identification. No less a person than his old friend John the Baptist had grown uneasy. "Are you the one we are looking for," he inquired, "or shall we look for someone else?" Jesus' answer to John was not to discuss the theology of the Incarnation, or anything of that sort. He just went about his usual day's work.

In the course of that day he cured a good many sick people, and preached to some very poor people. "Now go back," he said, "go back and tell John what you have seen and heard." What those men saw that day was what Jesus at another time called the "finger of God," the genuine divine signature.

Jesus wrote no book, no letters even; he wrote in action, and his acts were the handwriting of God. It is important to see where Jesus underscored that writing. It is true, his healings were what we call miracles. But Jesus did not even mention that feature.

What he asked John to notice was simply this: the blind see, the lame walk; lepers are cured, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and (as a climax!) the poor hear good news. The signature of God, in short, is not sheer power; it is using what power one has, to help people in trouble.

Not By Bread Alone

THE EXPRESSION, "needy people," nowadays suggests people who haven't enough to eat or wear. Jesus helped such persons; but he knew well that men's needs go beyond well-cared-for bodies. There was the poor man from the graveyard, for example,—he was happy enough. He didn't want clothes, and he was strong enough to steal all the food he could eat. All he wanted, in fact, was to be let alone. But Jesus knew that what he needed above all was a sane mind, a mind no longer run over and trampled by a regiment of devils.

When Jesus got through with him he was clothed, but that was not the best part of it. He was in his right mind. So God's signature is not only written in a sound body, it is in the sound mind. Again, at Jericho when Jesus invited himself to dinner with the pint-sized tycoon Zacchaeus, Jesus did not go just for the meal. He went because he knew that Zacchaeus needed something. Jericho needed something, too, something only Zacchaeus could give.

We do know that after dinner Zacchaeus was a changed man. He was going to give back every dishonest penny, with interest; and since he could not locate every one he had cheated, he was going to give away half of his holdings for the benefit of the poor.

What Jericho needed was a new administration, any honest one; they needed slum clearance; and Zacchaeus was going to give it to them. But first of all Zacchaeus had needed a new heart—and Jesus gave him that.

We Too

ALL AROUND us is a troubled world. Some men, seeing it, infer there is no God. Others conclude that if there is one, he must be bad or weak. The truth is that the signature of God is not to be found in the evil and the confusion of the world. It is to be seen wherever freedom is standing against slavery, wherever truth is pushing back ignorance, where diseased bodies are being healed, where sanity replaces madness.

More people would believe in God if they could see more of the handwriting of God. Do you want to help?

We cannot always do things as simply as Jesus did. Curing the diseased is not for us a simple matter of saying, Be well. A Christian woman, distressed by what she had learned of the plight of the insane in her backward state, was asking the head of the state hospital (himself a church officer), "What can we Christians do?" "Get behind the legislature," he said.

A System that Works!

I get riled up when I hear talk of changing our system of government, or our system of doing business, here in America. Sure, there's always room for improvement. But you can improve a house without wrecking the building! Any system that produces worthwhile results must be a pretty good one. I think our way of doing things has worked out mighty well for Americans.

Here we are—about 6% of the world's population, living on less than 6% of the world's land. Yet, through what I like to call our "three I's"—Initiative, Ingenuity and Industry—we have created the American way of life. We enjoy greater freedoms than the other 94% of the world's people. We have educational opportunities for all . . . schools, colleges, universities, libraries. And 48% of the world's radios. As just one measure of personal comfort and convenience, we have 92% of the world's bathtubs. We have a motor vehicle for every four people. And more than 286,000 miles of paved roads for them to run on.

Most important of all, thanks to your system of agricultural production, we have plenty of food for all of us—and enough to help feed our less fortunate neighbors. Yes, I think it's worth getting riled up in favor of the American System now and again.

ALL-PURPOSE
POWER SPRAYER

KILL WEEDS - NOT CORN

$16 TO $60 MORE PER ACRE

"2-4-D for corn: Use a maximum of 1/3 pound 2-4-D (actual) per acre as one of the salts when corn is 10 to 20 inches tall. Use low volume of water applied from the side with one or two nozzles per row so as to wet corn leaves as little as possible. 2-4-D will control many weeds too near corn to be taken out by cultivation. Some growers spray and cultivate in one operation." Page 21, March 1948 issue "Better Farming Methods," a famous scientific magazine published exclusively for County Agents, Vocational Agriculture Teachers, and other Agricultural Leaders.

ONLY Automatic

GIVES YOU:

1. FLEXPOINT BOOM DROPS point the spray exactly where you want it, where it will do the most good—kill the weeds that suck the moisture from the corn. ... kill weeds missed by cultivator. ... apply spray from the side below the leaves.
2. TRICYCLE TANK UNIT hinges rigidly on tractor, single castor wheel follows in tractor front wheel tracks—runs between corn rows—stays in position on hillsides—follows contours perfectly, turns at end of row without dragging corn down.
3. POSITIVE PROOF on thousands of acres in 1947. This is the famous Nebraska Sprayer proved by hundreds of practical farmers under tough, actual farming conditions in every principal farm state. Sturdy, rugged, dependable money maker.

The INDEPENDENT VOTERS PARTY

PRESENTS ITS CANDIDATES:

WALTER C. DOHL, Supervisor,
S. JEAN REGET, Town Clerk,
WILLIAM M. SHEEHAN, Assessor,
WALTER MANCKE, Collector
IRA W. CLINE, Highway Commissioner

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE:

Henry H. Wolfe,
W. Carl Woelfel,
George Wright,
Walter M. Drury.

CONSTABLES

Christian A. Steinhagen,
Edward P. Hermann,
Norman Hayes,
John A. Pfeiffer,
Edward Czekalski.

These men are fully qualified for the job they seek. Walter C. Dohl as Supervisor and Walter Mancke as Collector are seeking reelection on their records. They have filled their jobs well and kept their promises by giving the people of Bremen the type of service they have a right to expect. Their running mates on the ticket are also qualified and are eager to show the people what real representation means.

The INDEPENDENT VOTERS PARTY was organized as a protest against "COALITIONS." A "COALITION" is a political scheme for trading off a party and the people for personal satisfaction and gain. Our candidates want to represent the Independent voters; those who are opposed to "back-room deals." The Independent voter should know from past experience that political deals or "COALITIONS" have done him no good. Any time the Independent voter has no choice in the selection of candidates he is running into trouble, always in the form of increased taxes. The "COALITION" candidate is subject to the will of the "boss" who put him on the ticket. This the Independent voter should not accept. A "COALITION" ticket is a one party system and strictly unAmerican.

The Independent voters had no say in the selection of the "COALITION" candidates. Our reason for forming the INDEPENDENT VOTERS PARTY is to provide the Independent voter an opportunity to vote for a candidate of his own choosing. Here they are. They should have your support.
